

Nice to meet you!

Sami Ladner-Zech is a graduate of the Alberta College of Art and Design and the Nova Scotia College of Art and Design majoring in printmaking. She has an extensive exhibition record over the past twenty years; regionally, nationally and internationally.

community art
Courses for families • children • teens • adults

Interested in learning more about print workshops at In-Definite Arts?

Join our mailing list to find out more about course registration starting this Fall!

Primarily now a painter, Sami spends time translating the sublime, ephemeral world that exists within the layers of the garden as the main element in her work. The incorporation of the brilliant and subtle light that this world often graces our presence with represents the fundamental core of her painting. Communicating the personal experiences, thoughts and memories of the artist, elements are lyrically entwined in multi-layered atmospheres evoking the rhythm and structure of musical notation, conversational language or the wind on a particular landscape. Sami's work can be found in many collections both public and private. Her teaching revolves around an open studio process as well as through classes at IDAS.

Did you know...

In-Definite Arts' Community Arts classes are taught by fully trained, locally - practicing Calgary artists?